

Justin Cheng-chia Lee, MD, PhD

Taipei Veterans General Hospital, Taiwan

Cheng-Chia Lee, M.D., Ph.D: Prof. Lee is a functional neurosurgeon at Taipei Veteran General Hospital, who specializes in Gamma Knife radiosurgery, epilepsy surgery, neuromodulation, interventional pain management, and focused ultrasound. His research interests mainly focus on AI application in radiosurgery, stereo-EEG, and various type of neuromodulation. He completed his fellowship in Department of Neurological Surgery, University of Virginia on 2013-14. Since 2014, he got several awards including Outstanding Paper Award from Taiwan Neurosurgical Society, Young Researcher Scholarship from Taiwan Epilepsy Society, Young Researcher Scholarship from Taiwan Pain Society, and Young Neurosurgery Award (Top 15) from World Federation of Neurosurgical Societies (WFNS). Until now, he has published >300 articles and >100 international conference papers.